CHIME THROUGH THE YEARS

“WOMEN IN TECH: FEMALE SOFTWARE ENGINEERS AIM TO CLOSE GENDER GAP” BY ANETA FELIX FOR CONNECTER

CHIME FOR CHANGE Through the Years: The Female Fabric is a series curated by CHIME Managing Editor Mariane Pearl featuring stories from the CHIME journalism platform archives by women around the world.

The phenomenon of gender imbalance in STEM education and careers is more prevalent in Africa where cultural beliefs imposes gender roles for women. But in Nigeria, a group of women are breaking the barriers, and closing the gap

The ConnectHER Film Festival provides a powerful platform for young storytellers to highlight critical issues facing women and girls. Students submit original short (3 to 6 minute) films focused on issues such as girls’ global education, ending violence against women, redefining beauty, and girls in tech.

Aneta Felix is a reporter and documentary filmmaker at TV360 Nigeria. Her works focus on human and gender rights and development. She is currently enrolled at the National Broadcast Academy, Lagos, and she is a graduate of International Studies and Diplomacy at the University of Benin.”
