

CHIME AND YOUTH LEADERS AROUND THE WORLD

WOMEN DELIVER'S YOUNG WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP INITIATIVE

Connecting outstanding young advocates with the platforms, people and resources to amplify their influence

As innovators and leaders, young people are raising their own voices to demand and lead the change they want to see, especially related to their health and well-being. CHIME is partnering with Women Deliver to support its award-winning Young Leaders program, which connects outstanding young advocates with the platforms, people and resources they need to amplify their influence.

We'll build up young leaders on the front lines of change by providing them with dedicated investment, platforms, opportunities to innovate and other tools to develop their skills. Join us and support young women who are dedicated to creating gender-equitable health and well-being outcomes.
