TRANSFORMATIONAL CHANGE THROUGH THE INNOVATION GRANTS INITIATIVE WITH THE MS. FOUNDATION FOR WOMEN

Funding innovative approaches to movement-building and activism, especially among women of color in the United States.

To create truly transformational change in the United States, we need the issues impacting women, particularly women of color, to be front and center in all social justice movements. Through a partnership with the Ms. Foundation for Women, CHIME is funding five Innovation Grants to support activism, research and convenings focused on women of color in the US.

Innovation Grants will support groups led by and centering on women and girls of color and their advocacy needs, especially in the southern United States. Together, we'll tackle safety, health, economic justice and democracy-building efforts and related issues affecting women of color.

Join us to help amplify the voices of women of color in the United States and bring their issues to the forefront of the national conversation on gender equality and race.
